

Call for Papers (Commentaries, Concise Scholarly analyses, Expert Opinions and Brief Academic Articles)

The Law, Democratization and Media (LA-DEM-MED) website (<https://la-dem-med.et/>) is live now and we are happy to invite you to submit commentaries, concise scholarly analyses, expert opinions and brief academic articles on issues pertaining to rule law, democratization and media in contemporary Ethiopia.

Submissions should be well written, analytical and original contributions that address the very challenges of rule of law, democratization and media practice in Ethiopia and of which that constructively and positively add up to the ongoing issues of debate and dialogue in present-day Ethiopia.

Send Your Submissions to:
Kalewongel.Menale@bdu.edu.et

About the LA-DEM-MED Project

The LA-DEM-MED Project is an innovative and an interdisciplinary collaboration between Ethiopian and Dutch academicians, researchers and independent media practitioners to strengthen rule of law, promote democratization and consolidate civil right and bottom up public participation and active citizenship in Ethiopia.

The core areas of work by the project are:

- Strengthening journalism and media at a grassroots level through curriculum review and collaboration with community radio stations.
- Establishing three Training Centers on Law, Democratization and Media to provide tailor-made executive programs and short-term skills training as well as facilitate community dialogue.
- Establishing an interregional platform on Law, Democratization and Media that facilitates public debates and seminars at the regional/national level.

For more information, please visit the LA-DEM-MED Ethiopia Website: <https://la-dem-med.et/>